

Donna Fuller Named Director of Outreach at Ingleside

Marketing professional brings 25 years of experience to Ingleside outreach efforts

ROCKVILLE, Md. – Ingleside, a premier, charitable not-for-profit provider of comprehensive older adult opportunities in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area, appointed Donna Fuller as the director of outreach. Fuller will lead outreach for the Ingleside organization, including two of its life plan communities: Ingleside at Rock Creek and Ingleside at King Farm.

“With Ingleside constantly expanding to provide new and engaging programs, we believe Donna’s 25 years of marketing and sales experience in senior living will positively contribute to our continued growth and innovation through her strategic initiatives,” said Chief Officer of Sales, Marketing, and Strategy Monique Eliezer. “She consistently demonstrated success in implementing creative marketing and operational strategies designed to positively impact the growth and innovation of an organization, and we are excited to welcome her to our team.”

Fuller has dedicated her entire career to transforming the lives of people as they age and is deeply inspired and committed to this purpose. Throughout her career, she worked for Kensington Park Retirement Community for over seven years and Integrate for over 17 years. She graduated from Towson State University, where she earned a Bachelor of Science in health services administration.

Ingleside at King Farm’s addition, Gardenside, will add 120 new independent living residences to the community with a state-of-the-art Center for Healthy Living and Ingleside at Rock Creek’s Creekside will add 105 new independent living residences with its own Center for Healthy Living. To expand on the continuum of support offered at Ingleside, assisted living memory support residences will be open to residents and the greater community and are scheduled for completion this spring, 2019.
